

Helping Government Serve Communities

THE CHALLENGE

The mission of local government is to serve the community--with fair, equitable taxation, strategic planning and economic development, asset maintenance management, accessible social services, and responsive E911 and code enforcement. Successful delivery of these basic services is now impacted by budget cuts, rising energy costs, and reduced resources. In the face of such constraints, service demands have only grown. Municipal officials receive hundreds of requests daily for information on parcels, zoning, and public works. If this information is out of date or stored in outmoded or duplicated systems across the organization, how do understaffed departments adequately inform the public and perform their jobs? How does government keep pace with a dynamic, growing community?

SEWALL GEOSPATIAL SOLUTIONS

Sewall assists local governments in integrating their map and core business information into GIS. A centralized system with a consistent accurate base map gives municipalities the power to manage their information, maintain assets and streamline organizational work processes, including delivering data to the public. If the system is hosted over the web, users across departments and the public can quickly access one source for data, maps and applications, with a browser and Internet connection. Our solutions include:

- ✦ GIS needs assessment and implementation planning
- ✦ Aerial mapping and digital orthophotography
- ✦ Parcel, addresses, infrastructure, natural resource mapping
- ✦ Map updating, conversion and integration in GIS
- ✦ Application development, including asset management
- ✦ Systems integration (CAMA, E911)
- ✦ Web hosting and geoportal development

YOUR BENEFITS

- ✦ Improved productivity through reduced duplication of tasks
- ✦ Access to more accurate, up-to-date information for better analysis and decision making
- ✦ Fewer resources required for daily tasks; more time dedicated to mission critical
- ✦ Increased revenues through data resale over the web
- ✦ Better public service for a vital, healthy community
